

Swagato Chakraborty completed his PhD at the University of Washington, Seattle in 2005. He is the Director of Engineering for Nimbic products in the Board System Division of Mentor Graphics Corporation. Prior to this he worked as the Vice President of Products for Nimbic and developer of EM technology at Applied Wave Research. His research interest involves computational electromagnetics, signal and power integrity on high speed systems, fast solvers, parallel computation, and object oriented software architecture.