

Jaideva Goswami received his Ph.D. in Electrical Engineering in 1995 from Texas A&M University. After spending one year at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign as a Visiting Research Fellow, he joined Schlumberger in 1996 where he is currently an Engineering Advisor and Métier Manager for Modeling and Simulation. He was a Professor in the Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering at the Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur during 2005-06. Besides publishing over fifty papers in Journals and Conference proceedings, he has contributed three book chapters and is a coauthor of the book "Fundamentals of Wavelets: Theory, Algorithms and Applications," New York: John Wiley, 1999. He holds ten U.S. Patents. He is an Associate Editor of Journal of Radio Science. His research interests include multiphysics modeling, inverse problems, signal processing, wireless telemetry, subsurface sensor design and data analysis, and nuclear magnetic resonance. Dr. Goswami is a Fellow of IEEE and a member of Society of Petrophysicist and Well Log Analysts.
